DIED IN NEW YORK.

Political Incident-Why a Democratic Flag Was Taken Down-Personal and Political.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.) Correspondence of the Richmond Dispetch.]

PRIERISHURG, V.A., May 12, 1888.

A telegram was received here this morning amouncing the death in New York last night of Mr. Andrew Kevan, one of the most prominent and substantial cluzens of Petersburg. Mr. Kevan was in the eighty-fith year of his are, and was of Scotch parentage. He was born in New York and came to Petersburg when quite young, where, by his indomitable energy, his thorough business talent, and his imagerity of character he made for himself a hame and a fortune. He was for one or more terms mayor of the city and for many years was a member of the Common Council and chairman of the Finance Committee, where he always regarded the interests of the city as though he were managing his individual affairs. Previous to the war, under the old magisterial system, he was for many years the presiding magistrate of the Unifices Court. He was lergely maristerial system, he was for many years the presiding magistrate of the Hustings Court. He was largely interested in the cotton-manufacturing interests of the city, and for a long while was president of the Petersburg Gaslight Company. Several moaths ago Mr. Kevan went to New York and placed himself under distinguished medical treatment. Up to within the last few weeks Mr. Kevan was as active and energetic as a man in his prime. His remains will be brought to Petersburg for interment.

A POLITICAL INCIDENT. A large banner, bearing the device "We Contend for Honest Government and Intend to Win," was thrown across Sycamore street from Democratic headquarters early this morning. There were scores of other flags flying along this street in honor of the Musical Festival, but this particular one soon attracted attention, and was reported to the mayor. A correspondence ensued between the mayor and the city chairman of the Democratic party in reference to the matter, which resulted in the removal of the banner. The mayor suggested that in view of the delicate state of political feeling in the city and the troubles that had occurred on the day of registration this flag, with its motto, might prove objectionable, and might lead to a breach of the peace. The Democratic chairman was prompt to respond to the suggestion of the mayor, and not desiring that any, even the least, cause for a disturbance of the peace should be given had the flag bauled in.

Dr. Krause, the brilliant professor of medicine, at Göttingen states: "During the time Dr. Bolton worked in my laboratory he acquired an extraordinary knowledge of animal and vegetable parasites, as well as of the finer methods of microscopic investigation. I consider him highly qualified to hold a professorship of bygiene and bacteriology, and have full confidence in his skill and trustworthness in dealing with the often difficult problems of this branch of science."

Dr. P. Liborius, a distinguished staff surgeon of the Russian navy, writing to Dr. Bolton, remarks: "It gives me peculiar pleasure to be able to tell you that I find your valuable investigations on water now often quoted in Russian works. Frequent references are made to your work published in the Journal of Hygiene."

the Whole (Mr. Springer, of Illinois, in the chair) on the tariff bill.

Mr. Hanger, of Wisconsin, concluded his speech begun last night in opposition to the bill. He criticised the bill as being political in its features, in that it but slightly interfered with Democratic sugar, rice, iron, coal, and whiskey, while it selected Republican wool. lumber, and garden products upon which to try the experiment of free trade.

Mr. Townshend, of Illinois, spoke in support of the bill.

Mr. Millken, of Maine, denounced the bill as relegating the industries of the States on the northern border to the tender mercles of New Brunswick and Canada. The bill was framed not to reduce the revenue, but to favor Democratic States and make votes in doubtful districts.

Mr. Kean, of New Jersey, advocated a reduction of the internal revenue, and characterized the bill as a sacrifice of the industries of the country to the interest of President Cleveland.

Mr. Allen, of Mississippi, advocated the Norfolk, May 12, 1888.

Mr. George Beveredge, a wealthy and well-known farmer of Norfolk county, committed suicide this morning at his residence, near Deep Creek, by cutting his throat. He got up rather early and walked around his farm after breakfast for over an hour. Returning to his house he went to his bedchamber, and while sitting on the side of his bed cut his throat from ear to ear with a razor. Drs. Buit and Hope were summoned from Portsmouth, but their services were unnecessary. He was not ill, and it is not known what was the cause of the suicide. Deceased was sixty-seven years of age.

The second iestalment of plans for the new battle-ship Texas have been received at the navy-yard. It is thought the coming of the Naval Committee to the yard yesterday will result in much benefit, as the gentlemen who furnish the "sinews of war," as it were, have been brought face to face with the needs and requirements of the station. The House of Representatives.

The House met this morning at 11 o'clock.
On motion of Mr. Logan, c. Louisiana, the billi was passed extending the limits of the port of New Orleans so as to include a portion of the parish of Jefferson.

Mr. Hopkins, cf Virginia, introduced a bill to prevent convict labor competing with organized labor. Referred.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Spiringer, of Illinois, in the chair) on the tariff bill.

BURIED ALIVE! The Horrible Experience of a Young Man Who Was Buried While in a Trance and Came to His

Senses in a Charnel-

Scarcely any one who has read the sad details of injuries requiring immediate amputation of a leg or arm in times of war but has shuddered at the mere thought of the terrible agony undergone unflinchingly by such as were forced to be cut and sawn through quivering feeth and crunching bone, roughly, hastly, and wholly without any anaesthetic, save pernaps a glass of water or a few swallows of brandy. Terrible as such suffering must have been, it fades into insignificance before the horrible and unique terror, despair, suffocation, and exhaustion of the poor victim who finds himself alive, yet hopelexily nailed into a strong coffin and buried, apparently beyond all hope of rescue or relief. Alone in the terrible darkness, alive with monstrous shapes and foul shadows, weak, heipless, and with the terrible knowledge that he is moment by moment strangling to death—being sultocated for want of air. Such, however, was the sad fate of Jules Pierre Lemoyne, of New Orleans, Taken suidealty ill in the street with supposed symptoms of Asiatic cholere, he sank unconscious upon the ground, and before police or medical and could be made effective he had sunk into collapse, unconscious, and after a short time ceased to breathe.

Pronounced dead by a physician, he was hurried away for buriel, forced into a common place coffin, and entombed in the dark and loathsome vault in the cemetary. Every preparation was made with indocent hasts owing to the supposed nature of his dread disease. Buried at 2 colock, the supposed dead man came to life a little before midnight to find himself coffined and entombed. He could hear nothing but his own hourse, half-sided breathing, the trip-hammer beating of his heart, the flag, flap of the winss of hats and owls flustering about the dark and noisome vault. Then showly the booming of the bell in the church pear by announcing the hour or midnight, solome and ghastly at any time, but fraghtfully so when the sound plerces to the hearer's ears through the wood of a comin.

Frantically he twisted, tur

MANCHESTER, VA., May 12, 1888.
To Mesers. Over., Weisiger, Dorset, Ecans, Royall, Blanten, Gary, Spencer, Moore, Johnson, and Others:
Gentlemen,—If there be anything more gratifying to me than the endorsement of my friends it is the consciousness of having done my duty in my endeavor to win their approval.

I have during the time I have book my official position never host an opportunity to do all in my power to advance the interests of Manchester, and hope that the progress which our city has lately inside is one cause of your kindness in commending my claims to our people. Although I have always voted the Democratic ticket, yet as this election is purely local, with no political issues involved, I would as a Democrat, and codorsed by you as Democrate, be most happy to reside the cordial support of all my fellow-citizens at the polis, however much they may differ from me in their party views when the occasion arises to exercise political distinctions.

Very respectfully,

My 13-11*
